References
References should be written in a style that makes them accessible to readers in a wide range of disciplines. Reviews cover the latest developments in an area of cross-disciplinary research. They put such research into a broader context and are written in a style that makes them accessible to readers in a wide range of disciplines. Reviews are normally published by invitation, however, we are also keen to receive proposals for prospective articles. Complete literature surveys are not encouraged.

Selection criteria
The review process will give equal weighting to sciences on both sides of the interface. The criteria for selection are scientific excellence, originality and potential interest to a wide spectrum of scientists. All papers are peer-reviewed to a high standard and published rapidly under the control of the Editor and his distinguished Editorial Board.
